- Adopter agrees and understands that it is prohibited to declaw any kitten/cat from TaLynnKingCoons at any point during the duration of its life unless (and ONLY UNLESS) two separate licensed veterinarians advise that the surgery is medically necessary. Contrary to what some people believe, declawing an animal is not a quick or an easy process. This surgery is an amputation and the recovery are painful. If you are planning to declaw your animal for any purpose other than medical, please reconsider. www.humainesociety.org and www.tica.org both have articles with facts and information for anyone interested in education on the procedure and effects of declaw.
- Adopter ensures that this kitten/cat will live indoors. The only time this animal is to be outdoors is while being supervised on a harness and lead for outdoor play and/or in a safe and secure screened in enclosure/catio/porch for appropriate and regulated periods of time.
